Narrative:

Amy Frary has been a leader of the Lincoln staff for several years but her recent contributions have exceeded her previous hard work. She has taken upon herself the task of learning, mastering, and then sharing her knowledge of the implementation of the use Chromebooks. She has not merely learned how to use the computers but she has pioneered lessons for using them with the students. Amy is the person who trouble shoots any problem we encounters, and that helps immeasurably; she also guides us in developing curriculum that employs these computers. If we did not have her support teachers would find it difficult to use the chromebooks at all. All of this happens while Amy continues to do her other work and keeps a good positive attitude that inspires us all.
