Why do you want to serve on the Measure I Independent Citizen's Bond Oversight Committee?

My wife and I love Alameda, and we feel so fortunate to be raising our two young boys (one at Bay Farm Elementary, the other in pre-school) in a community that values education, diversity, and helping one another. Joining the Measure I Independent Citizen's Bond Oversight Committee is one small way I hope to give back and put my skills in management, consulting, and analysis to support Alameda's schools and school children.

Do you have any special area of expertise or experience that you think would be helpful to the committee?

I believe I would bring a diverse and relevant skill set to the committee. I hold a BA in economics from Tufts University and MBA from New York University, where I specialized in marketing and data analysis. I have been working in the private sector for over 15 years and have a track record of conducting strategic and financial analyses and creating plans that deliver success to not-for-profit and for-profit organizations. In addition, I have a personal interest in fiscal and tax policy and have worked in advocacy for fair and responsible tax policy.

If you have served on other school district, city or community committee, please list and briefly describe your role:

While I have not served on school or city committees, I have been involved in supporting not-for-profit organizations. I have done pro-bono consulting for International Rescue Committee (consulting project to assess impact of domestic refugee settlement programs) and served as corporate advisory member to National Association of Community Health (administered grants to community health centers).
